DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Ms. Juliana Haydoutova on February 4, 2005.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

After the title insert:

This Application is a division of U.S. Patent Application No. 10/088,605 filed 03/19/2002, now U.S. Patent No. 6,474,277, which is a 371 of PCT/JP00/05574, filed 08/18/2000.

In the claims

1. (Previously Presented) A frequency measurement circuit for measuring a frequency of an input signal, comprising:

a frequency measurement unit for counting a reference clock during a counting period having a predetermined number of waves of the input signal, wherein the frequency measurement unit counts the reference clock by ~~[[using]]~~ assigning a lighter amount of weighting to each count at a starting time and an ending time of the counting period, ~~[[than]]~~ compared to the amount of weighting at the other times of the counting period, wherein the amount of weighting is a minimum value at the starting time and the ending time of the counting period.

2. (Previously Presented) The frequency measurement circuit according to Claim 1, ~~wherein the amount of weighting is a minimum value at the starting time and the ending time of the counting period,~~ the amount of weighting increases as the counting operation progresses away from the starting time, and the amount of weighting decreases as the counting operation gets near to the ending time.

8. (New) A frequency measurement circuit for measuring a frequency of an input signal, comprising:

an input signal wave number measurement unit for counting a reference clock during a counting period having a predetermined number of waves of the input signal; and a weight assigning wave number measurement circuit for assigning a weight to each count in the counting period;

wherein the weight assigning wave number measurement circuit assigns a lighter weight to a count at a starting time and an ending time of the counting period, compared to the weights assigned to counts at all other times of the counting period, wherein the amount of weighting is a minimum value at the starting time and the ending time of the counting period.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-8 are allowed.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record does not teach or suggest a frequency measurement circuit for measuring a frequency of an input signal having a frequency measurement unit counts the reference clock by assigning a lighter amount of weighting to each count at a starting time and an ending time of the counting period wherein the amount of weighting is a minimum value at the starting time and the ending time of the counting period, as recited in the independent claim 1; a weight assigning wave number measurement circuit for assigning a weight to each count in the counting period wherein the amount of weighting is a minimum value at the starting time and the ending time of the counting period, as recited in the independent claim 8; and in combination of the claims.

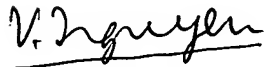

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
